B. Future Program of the Committee

No changes in the functioning of the ASC are contemplated for FY 66. The Subcommittee should continue to identify gaps in research and collection, approve external research projects, serve as a coordinating body for all agencies and departments having responsibilities in food and agriculture, and serve as a clearing house for information and data on western countries which could be useful in appraising developments in Communist countries. The Subcommittee should be alert and discuss significant developments and activities in the field of food and agriculture throughout the world.
